

Your secret to independent living...

Making independent home living possible, and possible for longer

The award-winning Karantis360 assisted living technology provides the following benefits:

- ✓ Enables you to stay living independently in your own home
- ✓ Delivers real time quality data to ensure correct care provision
- ✓ Improve transparency and accountability
- ✓ Helps reduce cost of care if applicable
- ✓ Enables more touch time for care if required

Designed to help you deliver a better quality of care

Karantis360 is an automated personal monitoring and alerting system which uses intelligent, wireless, battery-free sensors which sends reports and alerts to carers and or family members when needed.

The system has been developed by care givers and family members specifically to promote independent home living, for older adults, vulnerable individuals and those living with Alzheimer's or dementia. It can also support early release from hospital where monitored home living is required.
